inactivity after the statement of the Governor that he assumed "that body will do its duty promptly" remains to

An extended investigation into other State hospitals where similar con ditions exist is regarded as very prob able. And if the Governor's eagerness to have the charges made against the Manhattan State Hospital through The Evening World investigator is not promptly met and the iniquitous practices followed by vigorous prosecutions it is presumed he will personally see that somebody renders an explanation

The Evening World has the names of the brutal attendants whose atrocities were minutely recorded by Dr. McCar-thy, and has offered to furnish them to the proper authorities, together with all other such information as it possesses or may obtain in connection with the asylum abuses, but thus far no one has asked for them.

Dr. Mabon's Narrow View. Dr. Mabon appears to see in the disripsures only the brutal attendants, entirely overlooking the fact that such practices going on from day to day reect upon the management. The point The Evening World's investigation that it establishes that the underpaid dants were living up to the "sys-" and that system was not known attendants in one ward will not accomplish a general reform.
